

In my recent mistakes i have come to realize the true danger of the use of alcohol. one night of drinking alcohol is not worth a lifetime of regrets and or injuries or death. life is way too valuuable to risk it on a substance that kills hundreds of people a day.drinking and driving is a horrible thing that thousands of people do with out even thinking twice about doing.it is not fair that men,women and children die from people that make the decision to drive under the influence of alcohol.spending years or even life in a jail house cell behind bars becuae you decided to drink and end up killing innocent people is not a life i want to live. dangers without intentions is a great course that has shown me the cold hard reality of the disturbing truth of the devestating stories of people who have had their life drastically changer from someone else who has cuased alot of pain on someone who wasnt even drinking.

i could not live with myself knowing that me killing or injuring an innocent person becuae of a dumb mistake i made. it isnt fair innocent people are killed becuae of one stupid person. the stories ive heard in dangers without intentions open my eyes and really make me notice the truth of the cases that happen in the world. i wish more people could see that class to really show what can happen if you decide to drink and drive.if i could take some of those power points to my school and show them i would. i never want to go through loosing a loved one or friend through alcohol.

i have also came to reconization of what happens when you get a DWI.you may not be hurting someone else but you are hurting yourself. DWI's can ruin your oppertunities in getting a job and being successful. paying almost $20,000 in fines and fees is something i do not want to do in my life for a couple of nights that you dont think correctly.spending months in jail and dissapointing your family and friends is not anything else i would want to do either.

throughout this corse i have truley learned how delicate life is and how easily one mistake can take you from this world. drinking is just not worth it from DWI's to alcoholism to killing someone and spending life in jail.danger without intentions is a great corse that has helped me alot to realize the terrible things that drinking alcohol brings. from now on i am going to try and help my friends that i know that drink and drive and talk to them about how devistating the consequences are from that stupid choice. i want to help people like dangers without intentions helped me to see the truth about alcohol and the bad things it brings into peoples life.

dangers without intentions has made a huge impact on my life and i will never forget this class.
